

Rebekah Jones @GeoRebekah Thu Apr 06 00:42:14 +0000 2023

My family is not safe. My son has been taken on the gov's orders, and I've had to send my husband and daughter out of state for their safety.

THIS is the reality of living in DeSantis' Florida.

There is no freedom here. Only retaliatory rule by a fascist who wishes to be king

A week after we filed our lawsuit against the state, a kid claiming to be the cousin of one of my son's classmates joined their snapchat group. They recorded their conversations, and anonymously reported my son to police for sharing a popular internet meme.

They said they had to complete a threat assessment since they received an anon complaint, which both the local cops and the school signed off on as not being a threat. The kids were joking about cops and video games, which included this meme: <https://t.co/l06OkKG4mn>

Cops in their car waiting for the school shooter to kill himself so they can go in

Two weeks later, bringing us to earlier today, an officer told me the state issued a warrant for my son's arrest for "digital threats of terrorism."

I asked on whose orders. The officer said it was the state.

They aren't letting him come home tonight. They kidnapped my son.

I had to get my husband and daughter out of here because CPS now interprets my home as dangerous because they've charged my 13 year old son with a felony for sharing a meme.

Less than a week after filing the first lawsuit in America against a state's Covid lies

I'm sorry for not getting back to everyone who is frantically calling and messaging me. I'm trying to keep it together and stay here and fight for my kid.

This state has already gotten away with pointing guns at my son during their raid. I will not let them hurt him again. I am begging as a mother and an American for the @CivilRights @TheJusticeDept to stop this.

My son has paid an already heavy price for his mom being a legally-protected whistleblower.

@POTUS

@JoeBiden

@FLOTUS

@VP

@marceelias

@AttorneyCrump