

Judd Legum @JuddLegum Sun May 15 23:20:56 +0000 2022

1. In a lengthy defense of @TuckerCarlson, @ggreenwald says "there is no racial hierarchy in Carlson's view of American citizenship and to claim that there is is nothing short of a defamatory lie."

Here is exactly why this is wrong.

@TuckerCarlson @ggreenwald 2. It goes well beyond promoting the racist great replacement theory.

In April 2021, Carlson said that the "worst attack on our democracy in 160 years" was the "Immigration Act of 1965."

Carlson said the law "completely changed the composition of America's voter rolls"

3. What was the "Immigration Act of 1965"? It repealed the racially discriminatory National Origin Formula, that ensured almost all immigrants were white people from Northern and Western Europe.

4. The Immigration Act of 1965 is what opened up immigration to non-white people from South America, Africa, and Asia.

Carlson says this was the worst attack on Democracy in 160 years.

Carlson's issue is not, as Greenwald claims, immigration.

It's non-white immigration.

5. Greenwald says there is "no racial hierarchy" in Carlson's view of immigration.

Carlson says the elimination of a racial hierarchy in our immigration system was the worst attack on the country in 160 years.